Frequently Asked Questions on Coronavirus

As of March 27,2020

Due to the prevention of spread of the new coronavirus (COVID 19)¹ the state of emergency requires high level of awareness among the population of their rights and the restrictions enforced. Taking into account the questions that are of high interest among the public, this guidance has been developed to provide answers to those questions.

1. What is Coronavirus?

Coronavirus was identified in 2019 and formerly was never observed in humans. Coronavirus can cause illness with light symptoms (acute respiratory infection, influenza) and also those with severe symptoms. In humans, the virus is transmitted as a result of close contact with an infected person. The virus can survive up to 3 hours in the air, up to 24 hours on cardboard, up to 4 hours on copper, and up to 2-3 days on plastic and stainless steel.

Symptoms include: high temperature/fever, coughing, sour throat, fatigue, shortness of breath, etc.

Incubation period of the virus is 1-14 days. Majority of humans (approximately 80%) recover from the disease without any special treatment.

Upon the statement of the Director General of the World Health Organization dated March 13, 2020, Coronavirus has been declared a pandemic.

To date there is no vaccine invented to prevent or treat Coronavirus.

2. How to protect yourself from getting infected with Coronavirus?

To protect yourself from infection you need to:

⇒ Frequently wash hands with soap and water, especially before and after meal, for at least 20 seconds.

Close your mouth and nose with tissue when coughing or sneezing, then dispose the tissue to the trash bin;

⇒ Frequently clean and disinfect surfaces with standard household disinfectant. At least once a day clean and sanitize surfaces in the bathroom and toilet with standard household disinfectant containing chloride solution. After using, regularly wash cloths, beddings, towels, etc. with soap and water, or washing machine with standard washing powder at 60-90°C temperature, then properly dry those;

⇒ There is no need to wear medical masks for persons with no symptoms. The masks are necessary at contacts with persons with suspected symptoms when serving meal, providing first medical aid, in closed spaces. When wearing a mask, regularly replace it once in 3-4 hours. Otherwise it becomes dangerous;

⇒ In case you are convinced that a person is infected, wear a mask, gloves and goggles that hermetically protect the eyes, as the virus can be transmitted through eyes as well;

⇒ Keep social distance of 1,5-2 meters, if public places (transport, shops, etc.) cannot be avoided;

The virus can survive up to 3 hours in the air, up to 24 hours on cardboard, up to 4 hours on copper, and up to 2-3 days on plastic and stainless steel.

3. Which groups are at risk?

According to the data published by the World Health Organization, the following are the groups at higher risk of severe development of the illness:

⇒ Pregnant women;

⇒ Persons of age group of 70 and above (regardless of the health condition);

⇒ Persons of age group of 70 and below having the following characteristics:

- Persons suffering chronic (long-term) respiratory diseases (asthma, chronic lung disease (COPD), emphysema or bronchitis);
- Persons suffering chronic cardiovascular diseases (heart failure);
- Persons suffering chronic kidney diseases;
- Persons suffering chronic liver diseases (hepatitis);
- Persons suffering chronic neurological diseases (Parkinson disease, multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy);
- Diabetes.

4. What legal regime is currently declared in the country and what does that imply?

By the virtue of the Decision of the Government of Armenia dated March 16, state of emergency is declared nation-wide to prevent further spread of Coronavirus. During the declared state of emergency some human rights and freedoms can be restricted.

5. Which rights cannot be restricted?

There are rights set forth in the RoA Constitution that are absolute and cannot be restricted when state of emergency is declared. Below is the major list of such rights:

6. What are the main restrictions in force?

Quarantine measures can be employed for a certain period of time.

10. What are differences between isolation and self-quarantine?

The difference between isolation and self-quarantine is about the place of separation. The next difference is the purpose of employment of either measures. Isolation is employed only in cases when a person is already infected with Coronavirus or has been in contact with a person infected with Coronavirus. Self-quarantine, apart from persons infected or those who have been in contact with infected people, is required with regards to persons who, for example, have just returned from countries with high rates of Coronavirus spread.
